

FIGHTING OVER TARIFF PLANS IS UNDER WAY

Congressional Leaders Seek to Harmonize Bill Before Election

RATES ARE PROBLEM

Members Urge Adhering to Lower Figures of the House.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Republican finance leaders of the senate and house today began to harmonize the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill for presentation to the American people before the November election.

The road of the conferees with all Democrats barred for the present will be paved after much fighting over valuation plans and the granting of tariff changing powers to President Harding. Senate Republicans were strong proponents of the "flexible tariff provisions" which they placed in the revised house bill.

On the other hand, the house leaders were opposed to the election of any congressional powers to the executive department of the government.

While the house and senate administration leaders appeared to be split over this question, there was also dissension in house ranks over acceptance of the valuation plan which the senate conferees advocated.

Chairman Fordney, Republican, Michigan of the house ways and means committee, announced he would "stand pat" on the American valuation plan adopted by the house.

Senate conferees led by Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, were just as earnest in their espousal of the foreign valuation plan.

A third question which the conferees must decide before calling in their Democratic colleagues, concerned rates to be finally enacted. The house measure carried not much in excess of the emergency tariff bill, which is in effect now. The senate however, boosted nearly all the house figures and in most instances the increases ranged from 100 to 600 per cent.

Congressmen with an ear to the ground at home, were adverse to accepting the senate rates and urged their conferees to "stand pat" for the original lower house rates. Criticism of the McCumber bill, it was believed was also the cause of a movement to delay final passage of the measure until after the election.

Senate conferees, however, were anxious to pass the bill finally and send it to the White House for the president's signature. They maintained the bill would justify itself given a chance before the people.

In the flexible tariff provisions, as stated, the measure could be justified if any rates were found too high.

The senate conferees hoped to win this point and enact the bill into law by October first.

'BLOW UP' IS NEAR IN COAL SITUATION

Pittsburgh, Aug. 23.—The entire soft coal strike situation in Western Pennsylvania was rapidly approaching a "blow up" this morning. The great Pittsburgh Coal Producer's Association which demanded a 33 1-3 per cent wage cut and which from first to last has maintained a "no surrender and no compromise" attitude toward the United Mine Workers and their demands, is to hold an executive meeting today and is expected to agree to the terms of the Cleveland agreement.

The associated membership is fast breaking away and making peace with the union. It is announced the association will post the 1921 scale at its mines instead of the 1917 or Garfield scale which it had fought for. This is equivalent to an almost unconditional surrender.

Assassination Of Michael Collins To Renew Warfare

Intensified Campaign Against DeValera Forces Expected as Result of Murder of Popular Chief of Free State Army Tuesday.

Dublin, Aug. 23.—Michael Collins, "strong man" of the Irish provisional government and commander in chief of the Irish free state army died in battle, fighting against terrific odds, according to details received this afternoon from Cork.

Collins and a detachment of about twenty free state soldiers were attacked from ambush near Bandon, County Cork, by about 200 republican irregulars. The fighting lasted for about half an hour. Collins, at the head of his little band, fought bravely amidst flying bullets, cheering his men onward.

The free states had fought the enemy to a standstill and believed themselves victorious when a bullet struck Collins in the head emerging from behind his ear. The gallant leader fell in his tracks.

The attack was made at a point where a hillside flanked the road. Hidden behind shrubbery and rocks, the ambushers opened the fight with a sudden volley against Collins and his men.

Collins' body is expected here tonight from Cork on a steamer. The free state commander in chief had been enthusiastically welcomed upon his arrival at Cork. Troops and civilians throughout the whole vicinity of Cork turned out to cheer him. It is understood that Collins was bound homeward when the fatal assault was launched.

Dublin, Aug. 23.—An intensified campaign against Eamonn DeValera's Republican irregulars was planned today as a result of the assassination from ambush of Michael Collins, commander-in-chief of the free state army, by rebels near Bandon, County Cork.

Richard Mulcahy, minister of defense in the Irish provisional government and former chief of staff in the Irish Republican army, will succeed Collins as commander-in-chief. Mulcahy has issued an order to the free state troops exhorting them to stand firm. The order reads:

"Soldiers of the free state, stand calmly at your posts. Do not let any cruel act of reprisal blench your honor. You are the inheritors of the bright strength and gay bravery of Michael Collins and your sorrow will strengthen you to serve Ireland."

The cabinet, was summoned to consider the situation. At the same time official announcement was made the death of Collins necessitates a meeting of the new Dail Eireann (parliament), on Saturday if possible.

The killing of Collins—the idol of the free state, and with Arthur Griffith, the chief supporter of the Anglo-Irish treaty and the Irish constitution, has intensified the popular bitterness against DeValera and Erskine Childers, his chief aid. Demands were made that both be arrested at once.

It was reported that DeValera was considering an appeal to the irregulars to abandon their warfare against the free state.

Despite the warning of Mulcahy against reprisals it is improbable that the free state army officers would be able to restrain their men if the opportunity came to retaliate so great was the admiration of the troops for "Micky" Collins. He was familiarly known.

Collins evidently was on his way towards Dublin from the southwest when he was shot to death in his motor car by men hidden alongside the road. Collins' secretary had received a message from Collins on Thursday night arranging a meeting on Thursday with Marlen E. Pew, editor, and general manager of International News Service, to give an interview on Irish conditions.

All of Dublin is in mourning today. Collins last Friday led his friends to advise him to take greater precautions but the natural boldness of the leader overrode all fears for his personal safety. Even written threats that his life would be taken in re-

Sir Mark Sheldon, Australian Commissioner to the United States, sailed for an official trip to England.

Washington, Aug. 23.—New rail strike disorders, particularly in the west, in which mail trains have been delayed, were declared by Attorney General Daugherty today to be due partly to renewed activity by I. W. W.'s and their sympathizers.

The attorney general said I. W. W. were invading troubled traffic centers and creating fresh disturbances. They are active, he asserted, in fermenting outbreaks among rail men at junction points and they are suspected of having had a part in getting rail workers to refuse to haul non-union coal shipments.

Holding up of mail trains in Oklahoma gave concern to both Postmaster General Work and the attorney general. In this situation they agreed that the I. W. W.'s were to be chiefly blamed. Department of justice will have about 100 deputy United States marshals at Shawnee investigating conditions. Sixty deputies were on duty today at that point and before the end of the day the number will be nearly doubled.

Officials were informed, as a measure to prevent interference with the mails and to prevent disorders.

"The I. W. W.'s are fanning and agitating wherever they light and they are seeking the spots where trouble already exists," the attorney general said. "They are overlooking no opportunity to make more trouble."

The attorney general ventured no prediction of what disposition will be made of the evidence gathered against the I. W. W.'s. He blamed state authorities mainly for not forestalling attempts to stop mail trains. He was particularly critical of Illinois state authorities. He charged them with following a course that "actually invites lawlessness."

William J. Burns, chief of the Bureau of Investigation today laid before the attorney general, new reports of the activity of so-called "agitators" and in these groups were said to be many who have been catalogued in the department of justice records for some time.

Attorney General Daugherty today denied that the department of justice had directed the raid upon the quarters of William Z. Foster in Chicago. It is understood, however, that the federal district attorney at Chicago has made a complete report, as a matter of "information" of the disclosures in the raid. The report is said to deal particularly with Foster's movements around the railroad strike zone and his conferences with strike leaders.

Attorney General Daugherty was caustic in his criticism of Governor Small of Illinois.

"The governor, if he had been disposed to do so, could have handled this, Herrin situation effectively," Daugherty said. "He could have done it if it had meant the decapitation of official heads all over that country. But the matter was allowed to drag, and by the inert methods of the state, the federal government was virtually stopped from taking action."

Chicago, Aug. 23.—William Z. Foster, believed by Department of Justice officials to be the master mind of American "reds" was again being hunted in Chicago today. Some sixty other alleged radicals also were being sought, both in this city and in parts of northern Indiana and Michigan, part of a band of "reds" who escaped from their rendezvous in the Michigan woods near Bridgman late yesterday, as government agents swooped down upon it.

Fifteen of the band, were captured together with much literature of communistic nature.

The secret convention of the "reds" was said to have been revealed in papers found in the recent raid of the Trade Union National League headquarters in this city. According to government agents, it was the most important raid in this country since the war.

Foster is believed to have been among the men, who escaped together with Boris Reinstein and Arnold Lokowski, close aides of Nicolai Lenin, Russian "red" premier.

Federal secret service men claim the communists were involved in the railroad strike and in plotting industrial unrest through the country, although no direct evidence has been found. It was stated they had a hand in the wrecking of the million dollar Michigan Central Railroad express at Gary on Monday.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Four persons were injured and hundreds of commuters were panic stricken today when a loop-bound Chicago and Northwestern train was sideswiped by a freight car in the city suburb. Nearly all the windows on one side of a coach were shattered and the partitions broken. The injured were rushed to hospitals.

TOWN MARSHAL SHOT

The platform urges speedy enactment of the pending tariff bill by congress, endorses enforcement of child labor legislation in Ohio, and recommends that the federal constitution be amended so as to authorize similar legislation by congress.

Legislation is favored that will promote the development of the state's natural resources and "at the same time insure the equitable division of the reward which comes through co-operation of capital and labor."

The platform recommends that a survey be made of the needs for compensation of women in industry "to the end that accurate information may be secured with respect to an adequate minimum wage," pledges support to the St. Lawrence deep waterways project and improvement of the Ohio river; advocates extension of welfare activities of the state that the social menace of the feeble minded be controlled and finally eliminated; favors a permanent police in favor of improved roadway; sound and equitable taxation and financial relief for local taxing districts, and commends Republican nominees to Ohio voters.

Although the convention was scheduled to start at 10 o'clock, it was 10:35 a. m. when Chairman Fess called the delegates to order.

The resolutions committee was still in session working on platform.

Congressman Fess was made permanent chairman by adoption of report of the committee on permanent organization. Adoption of the rule, committees report carried with it the decree that no proposed resolutions would be acted upon without first being submitted to the resolutions committee.

Nothing developed on the floor to mar the harmony of the convention. Speakers and platform alike were vigorously cheered.

Governor Davis spoke first. At the conclusion of his address, the resolutions committee submitted the platform. Upon its prompt ratification, Colonel Thompson addressed the delegates.

The convention adjourned sine die shortly before noon.

The Harding administration and the acts of the present congress were upheld in addresses delivered at the opening session of the convention here late yesterday by United States Senator Frank B. Willis and by Congressman Simeon D. Fess, Republican nominee for United States senator.

At a meeting of the Republican State Committee, Attorney William H. Miller, Columbus, who directed Colonel Thompson's pre-primary campaign, was chosen chairman of the campaign committee which will have charge of G. O. P. activity in Ohio this fall.

George Little, Xenia, president of the Xenia National bank and of president of the Hoover and Cordage Company, was chosen secretary of the campaign committee. The request of Congressman Fess that the campaign committee in Mrs. John G. Battelle, Columbus, be chosen chairman of the Republican central committee, George B. Miller is to appoint three additional members.

Because the controversy has been referred to Secretary of State, the State Central Committee did not act on the contest from Butler County Republican Central Committee Claiming William Ludeke moved into another war prior to the primary election, some of the Butler county committee men contended that Ludeke was not eligible as a member of the committee.

If Ludeke is ousted, it is claimed, the opposing factions on the committee will be equally divided and a compromise organization will have to be erected.

The convention unanimously adopted following platform.

We, the Republicans of Ohio convention assembled, send affectionate greetings to the President of the United States and voice the grateful appreciation of his fellow citizens for the patience, courage and wisdom with which he is meeting the many difficult problems of reconstruction.

CONTINUE PLAN TO SMUGGLE DRUG

Reynolds, August, 22.—Attempts to smuggle opium into Hawaii on a away to sea scale continue despite all efforts made by Government agents to put a stop to the traffic, according to a statement issued by W. D. Sullivan, agent in charge of the narcotic and quad of the Honolulu Customs of Police.

From evidence recently has come to light implicating members of the Honolulu police force in attempts to smuggle opium into the Territory, and the fact is now held that the Honolulu police force is believed to be in collusion with the smugglers. A recent attempt to smuggle opium into Hawaii from a trans-Pacific steamer was frustrated by the customs officials, who forced the crew of a Japanese sampan which had met the steamer outside Honolulu Harbor to throw overboard two packages containing 150 tins of opium, valued at $27,000, in order to avoid arrest. Information that this amount of opium had been dropped from the steamer was secured from members of the crew, and it is believed that the packages were picked up by the crew of the Japanese sampan and later dropped, when the steamer was given a police launch.

SHOE FACTORY BUYS EASTERN LOCATION

Cincinnati, August 23.—Officials of the Val Duttonhoefer Sons Shoe Company announced the purchase last night of a shoe factory in Buffalo, N. Y., for $250,000 in furtherance of their determination to move all their interests from this city as a result of the shoe workers' strike, which has paralyzed the industry here for months and is still hopelessly deadlocked.

The president of the company left this city last night for a thorough inspection of the new plant and will look at several other concerns in New England and other parts of the east with a view to taking options on them.

SOME GOOD PICKLING RECIPES

Sweet and Sour Cucumber Pickles: These pickles may be made without the use of preserving powders, alum or a copper or brass kettle—all of which devices were resorted to in years past to preserve the color of the pickles. To keep the pickles green the old time method of lining the preserving kettle with grape leaves and cabbage leaves, also covering the pickles with them, can be used with the comforting knowledge that this simple method is not inimical to the health.

TO MAKE THE BRINE: Add enough ordinary table salt to a quart of cold water to float a fresh egg (about one-half cupful). Soak small gherkin pickles in this brine for 24 hours, then drain them and put them into a porcelain-lined or an agate-ware preserving kettle with the following vinegar and bring to the boiling point:

PICKLING VINEGAR: One quart of vinegar, two teaspoons of whole black pepper, two teaspoons of horseradish, a three-inch-long stick of cinnamon broken small, one teaspoon celery seed, one tablespoon of brown sugar and one-half teaspoon each of whole cloves and mustard seed. This far, the pickling vinegar is sour. If you wish to make sweet, cucumber pickles you must now add one cup of granulated sugar to this pickling vinegar, but if you want sour cucumber pickles do not add the sugar.

After bringing the gherkins to a vigorous boil in this vinegar, take the pickles out of the vinegar and put them in jars; pour the hot vinegar over them and the work is completed.

Another method of putting up cucumber pickles is given in my two-page multigraphed article, entitled: "Eight Popular Pickles," which I have prepared to send out to any reader of this column who sends me a stamped self-addressed envelope.

To Can Sweet Peppers (requested by "Jeane"): Wash the peppers and cut off stem, removing seeds. Put them in a piece of cheesecloth and "blanch" them (that is, lower them in boiling water) for five minutes. Remove them from the boiling water rapidly and plunge them at once into cold water for a second or two (this is called "cold-dipping"). Now pack them in hot, sterilized glass jars (to sterilize the jars, boil them, empty, in clear water for about ten minutes.) Fill the jar to overflowing with boiling water. Slip a silver knife down inside the jar, close to the glass, to take out any air bubbles that may be in the water and adjust glass cap. Put top wire up over glass cap, but do not press down side wire (this is called "partially sealing"). Place the jar on a rack in your wash boiler, in boiling water, and wait till the water begins to boil again before counting the time. The jar should remain in boiling water ("processing") for 90 minutes. It is then removed and completely sealed—that is, the side wire is pressed down.

Horseradish Pickle: Clean and scrape the horseradish into stone jars. Boil enough vinegar to cover it, add six chilies, six whole sweet peppers, and a few small pieces of ginger root. Pour this hot mixture over the horseradish and cork down tightly. It will be ready for use in 14 days.

WRECKS REPORTED ON D. T. & I. ROAD

Summit, O., August 23.—The D. T. and I. has been having an unusual number of wrecks near here, below Bainbridge, during the past few days and as a result of the numerous wrecks the "big hook" or wreck train is kept at Bainbridge near the scene of the numerous spills.

Sunday added another wreck to the list when a double-header pulling a train of coal plunged into the rear of another train near Waverly and Walter Hessler, engineer of Springfield, sustained a broken ankle by leaping. The crew in the caboose of the forward train also saved themselves by leaping.

Reports indicate a second wreck on the road Sunday, but information was not obtainable as Ford has all employees "muzzled" to a greater or less degree.

Scores of men are employed on the road near Bainbridge, laying new ties and making repairs, but the treacherous slope of the road up the Summit hill is said to cause more wrecks than occur on many miles of bad road without steep grades.

FALLS SIX STORIES, ESCAPES WITH TWO BROKEN RIBS

Cincinnati, August 23.—After falling from the roof of a six-story building yesterday, Elwood Davidson of Tobasco, Ohio, was reported in a favorable condition this morning at the City hospital where physicians could find nothing wrong with him but two broken ribs. He was painting the roof of the building at the time of the accident.

Health turns the Clock Backward

The Terror of An Operation

Wednesday Health Talk No. 35.
By G. C. DONOHOO, D. C.

The terror of an operation is an awful thing to face. Not so many operations for appendicitis are being ordered today as formerly, but they are still considered a necessity. If the appendix is ruptured the operation may be considered a necessity, but it is not possible to be certain of this in advance.

Ordinarily in the trouble known as appendicitis there is no immediate danger, even when the pain is acute, of a rupture. The chiropractic records are full of case after case where the appendicitis operation has been avoided by chiropractic spinal adjustments and there are even records of cases where adjustments brought a recovery when the appendix was declared to have been ruptured.

CHILD OF SEVEN TOO WEAK FOR OPERATION

"In November, 1919, my daughter, Violet, 7, was taken ill with a severe pain in her right groin which the medical doctor called appendicitis. For several days she kept getting gradually worse and a consultation of doctors said the appendix had ruptured and called it peritonitis. She was so rundown the doctors said she could not live and were willing a chiropractor should be called. If people only knew that chiropractors can handle critical cases. We could hardly believe our eyes as she gradually improved from day to day. I am sure the child owes her life to chiropractic.—George C. Zimbleman, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1308Y.

GOVERNMENT READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY

Washington, Aug. 23.—The government is fully prepared for any emergency that may arise in the railroad strike situation, it was asserted today by Secretary of War Weeks.

"The government," Secretary Weeks said, "will not permit any breakdown in the transportation system. The railway executives must either run their roads or let some one do it."

It is entirely unlikely, regardless of the outcome of the New York conference that the government will intervene in the strike situation in any way unless requested to do so by both sides or unless transportation breaks down, the secretary said.

He declined to discuss details for the government's program should there be a breakdown, but it was stated that every government department has prepared a program of steps to be taken in an emergency.

Particular attention has been paid, it is understood to maintenance of mail transportation for which trucks and even naval vessels could be utilized for coastwise and short hauls.

MAYOR RESIGNS AFTER DISPUTE

Members of the old Board of Public Affairs, composed of Dr. Spickard, William Reeves and Clay Watkins resigned when the people of the village voted at the primary to do away with their local electric power plant and buy current from a private producer.

Mayor Lorish then appointed Frank Setty, J. A. Corwin and W. B. Reed, on the new board and introduced the names to council for approval. When that body failed to confirm the appointments, the mayor resigned. He was serving his second term as mayor.

YALE ENGAGES LEADER AS COACH

New Haven, Conn.—Yale has engaged Edward Leader as rowing coach for several years. He developed the University of the State of Washington eight, which finished second in the regatta on the Hudson last June, and has produced winning crews on the Pacific slope for several seasons. He is a Washington graduate, but was coached by Ben Wallis and Donibear, who were the product of Yale coaching. Wallis being a pupil of John Kenney, the Yale coach.

Professor Clarence Mendell, Yale athletic head, gave out a statement in which he said that Leader's appointment had been confirmed by the Yale board of control. Leader was secured by Bernard Pelly, the Yale captain.

The Yale statement also asserted that it was Yale's policy to appoint an American coach who would work constructively over a term of years. The Cordery brothers, George and Jim, have contracts with Yale lasting till next March. No announcement as to whether they will continue as assistant coaches, but it is not believed that they will return from England the coming fall.

Leader will begin his coaching as soon as the Fall term opens. Captain Pelly has not yet appointed his graduate rowing committee for next year, but a few changes are expected from the list, which includes Fred Allen, chairman; Jack Goethals, Payne Whitney, Averell Harrison and All Swayne and Colles Coe. It is likely that Laghorne Gibson, captain this year, will be added to the list.

TO LAY OUT MODEL INDUSTRIAL CITY

Kansas City, Mo.—The laying out of a model industrial city on the Pacific Coast, fifty miles from Portland Ore., is contemplated in the near future, according to an announcement of the Long-Bell Lumber Company of this city. At this point, near Kelso Wash., the company has commenced construction of several lumber mills. These mills, it is said will have a capacity equal to their entire eleven mills operated in the southern pine district.

R. A. Long, president of the company, declared the depletion of pine forests in the southern timber district has been largely responsible for the contemplated transfer of the company's interests to the northern fire district.

The proposed municipality site lies adjacent to the banks of the Columbia River, and company officials stated it would make an ideal location for their industry.

Nearly 4,000 men—employees of the company—together with their families will emigrate to the northern timber center and it is expected they will form a nucleus from which a city having various industries will eventually grow.

"The site was chosen largely because of its advantageous proximity to the Columbia River," Long said. "We have seven and a quarter miles of water front on the Columbia River and five miles on the Cowlitz River."

"Three trunk line railroads touch our townsite and heavy freight liners traverse the rivers to the Pacific Ocean. We will have access to all the markets of the world."

SEEK SLAYERS OF LOS ANGELES MAN

The murder of Oesterreich took place in his South Andrews Blvd. home. Oesterreich was struck by three bullets, two just above the heart and one in the temple. A fourth shot was fired but it lodged in the ceiling.

SMALL BLAZE CALLS OUT BOTH TRUCKS WEDNESDAY NOON

Although there was no loss, firemen responded to a two-alarm fire in a stable in the rear of the home of Mrs. James Derrick, 118 Center St., shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Boys playing with matches or smoking cornsilk cigarettes are believed to have caused the small fire in chaff in the loft of the barn, which was empty at the time. Firemen extinguished the blaze with water buckets, after the second alarm brought the apparatus to the scene of the supposed blaze.

Firemen answering the call on the first truck, were confused as to their destination when the location was given improperly over the telephone. The truck went to Charles street, where it was stalled when the shaft on the pump of the gasoline line was found to be broken. The second alarm was sent in to get the second fire truck to the scene.

The big white truck was the machine out of repair, and firemen were working on it Wednesday afternoon after it had been towed to the fire house. It will be ready for use by Thursday morning according to Fire Captain L. B. Clair.

REPUBLICANS OF STATE ENDORSE ADMINISTRATION

We congratulate the United States on the success of the president in surrounding himself with as able group of advisers as has been assembled in a generation, to which Ohio has made a distinguished contribution.

We commend the national administration for its brilliant and vigorous foreign policy, which has challenged the administration of the world, a policy which culminated in the accomplishments of the limitation of armament conference and especially in righting the crime of Shantung.

Attention is directed to the splendid achievement in the handling of the nation's finances, sorely disturbed by the world war. A budget system has been inaugurated; the nation's budget balanced; seven hundred and fifty millions of dollars annually saved; the yearly tax bill reduced eight hundred and thirty five millions; the public debt reduced two billions nine hundred and fifty three millions of dollars, the wasteful floating debt funded at a yearly saving of interest to the amount of thirty millions of dollars, liberty bonds advanced from fifteen per cent discount to a premium, commercial credit expanded, industry revived and unemployment rapidly passing these are some of the fruits of a wise, economic administration of the country's finances under the Harding administration.

We congratulate and commend the present Republican congress for its accomplishments in the program for the rehabilitation of agriculture. We invite especial attention to the remarkable progress in clearing away the wreckage of war and incompetent administration. Appropriations for the last year of the Wilson administration (1920) were six billion four hundred and fifty-four million six hundred thousand dollars. In 1923 the total appropriations will be three billion, seven hundred and forty seven million dollars, a saving of over two and a half billions of dollars, or about two and a half millions of dollars for every since President Harding was inaugurated. The total group debt of the United States has been reduced two billion, nine hundred and fifty two million five hundred thousand dollars.

We commend the sixty-seventh congress for its response to the call of the president and the needs of the country in the enactment of legislation made necessary by this trying period of reconstruction. We challenge the Democratic party to show like achievement; in the light of the character of problems to be met and the prompt and decisive manner of solving them. In the first sixteen months of the Harding administration every problem resulting from the war was taken up, considered and solved as far as conditions permitted. During that period three hundred and ninety eight laws were enacted. In addition thereto many important bills have been passed either the house of senate but have not yet been enacted into law. In this accomplishment of necessary legislation we especially commend Senator Frank B. Willis and the whole Republican delegation in the house.

The liberty and security of the people and the perpetuity of organized government; in America depends upon adherence to the constitution and the observance of laws enacted by the majority of the American people.

ZELL SELLS NEWS AGENCY TO JOSEPH HENDRICKSON

Joseph Hendrickson, star tackle on the Central High School football team last season and a popular young Xenia man closed a deal Tuesday, whereby he becomes owner of the Xenia newspaper business, conducted for years by T. H. Zell, city auditor.

Mr. Zell held the agency for 23 years, and is retiring because of other business interests.

When he acquired the agency 23 years ago he handled only four papers, the number being increased to ten since then.

LITTLE SELECTION TO G. O. P. POSITION WAS UNSOLICITED

George S. Little, of this city, former Greene County Representative and for many years prominent in Republican politics, has been selected secretary of the Republican Campaign Committee of this fall.

The naming of Mr. Little to the important position came entirely unsolicited, according to friends here, and was made at the State Republican convention held in Columbus, Tuesday on the recommendation of Dr. S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, Republican candidate for United States Senator this fall.

The selection of Mr. Little, it is believed by politicians will cement unity in the party campaign this fall and will insure that the interests of Dr. Fess in the activities of the committee, will be well taken care of. The selection was made after William H. Miller, campaign manager for Carmi A. Thompson in the gubernatorial primary race, was made chairman of the executive committee on the endorsement of Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Little is a prominent local banker, and manufacturer and was formerly member of the General Assembly from Greene County, and an active political leader. He was unaware until Monday night that the committee was planning to confer upon him, it was learned Wednesday. At that time he was at a summer resort and was reached by Dr. Fess after strenuous efforts. Returning here Monday night, Mr. Little left for Columbus, Tuesday morning in time to attend the convention, where the appointment was made.

Mr. Little remained in Columbus Wednesday and friends say they do not know what demands will be made upon his time by the new position. It is believed however, that he will be called to spend considerable of the time from now until the regular election in November, working with the committee in the interests of his party's candidates.

While friends of Carmi Thompson and his campaign for governor are pleased with the selection of the committee officials, friends of the candidacy of Dr. Fess are particularly delighted in the selection of Mr. Little, it is said.

DR. H. A. HOFFMAN IS ASSISTANT IN ANTIOCH DEPARTMENT

Dr. H. A. Hoffman, of this city, has been appointed as assistant in the Department of Industrial Health at Antioch College, to have charge of the Industrial Health Laboratory being established at the college. The Millbank Foundation of New York has made generous donations to Antioch for the purchase of all necessary equipment to make this one of the best laboratories in this area.

Dr. Hoffman is a graduate of Kansas State Agricultural College and has done considerable research work in bacteriology in Cornell University. The Industrial Health Department also has on its staff in addition to the director and Dr. Hoffman, Miss Leonora Field, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and of the Massachusetts General Hospital. The department will thus have facilities to afford public school systems assistance in matters vitally affecting school children, such as periodic physical examination, school hygiene and sanitation.

The laboratory will be equipped to do water analysis and bacteriological count for milk and the Industrial Health Department will also be in a position to do dairy and food inspection work for nearby communities desiring to have such duties performed for them at a minimum cost.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Xenia. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

J. F. Mellage, shoemaker, 426 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "My back throbbed and ached constantly. Every time I stooped the least bit I got a stab of pain through my back that felt just like a knife cut. When I bent it was hard to straighten again, my back was so knotted up. Mornings I dreaded to get up, I was so stiff and lame. I easily tired and soon became very weak. My kidneys were too free in action and I had to get up several times at night to pass the secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly praised that I got some. I used about six boxes when I was absolutely cured of the backache and my kidneys again became normal."

PIQUA BLUE LAWS WILL BE LIFTED AFTER TEST CASE

Result of Acquittal of Theater Man by Local Jury.

Piqua, Ohio, August 23.—After deliberating 20 minutes, the 10 men and two women on the jury in the case against Harry W. Kress, manager of a theatre here, charged with having operated Sunday reported a verdict of not guilty. Two ballots were taken. The first one was 11 to one for acquittal and the second was unanimous for acquittal.

The courtroom was in an uproar after the verdict was announced and considerable effort on the part of court bailiffs were necessary before Judge E. A. Hilt, could dismiss the jury.

The acquittal of Mr. Kress generally is taken to mean that the blue laws which have been in effect here for the last two Sundays are over with, and an unofficial statement was made last night that the closing order would be lifted Wednesday and picture show owners are preparing to offer Sunday programs.

Members of the City Administration who clamped on the blue law lid closing all business activity on Sunday as a remonstrance to ministers who caused the arrest of Mr. Kress say they have been vindicated fully in their stand, and that beginning next Sunday Piqua will be open for all lawful pursuits.

The attorneys for Mr. Kress were John W. Wiegand, of Cincinnati, Jas. W. Keyt, and J. C. Hughes of this city.

The directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at their meeting on August 15, passed the following resolution:

"In the death of Alexander Graham Bell the civilized world mourns for a man who thought fearlessly, worked tirelessly and served generously to relieve the unfortunate and to benefit humanity.

"Whereas, this company was founded upon and is devoted to the development of his invention for the service of humanity, it seems proper that we, the directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, for ourselves and in behalf of the men and women of the Bell System, should spread upon our records our recognition of the debt owed to Alexander Graham Bell by hundreds of thousands of telephone workers of the world for the opportunity for service which his invention made possible.

A charming informal party, complementing Mrs. Edward Keyes of Tampa, Florida, who is the guest of friends and relatives in this city, was given by Mrs. Harry Fisher at her home on North Detroit Street Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Fisher received her guests for three tables of bridge, the affair being a most attractive one in every detail. Garden flowers, including a profusion of cosmos and other gay-colored blossoms were used in bouquets about the rooms.

During cards a dainty guest prize was presented to Mrs. Keyes, by Mrs. Hamilton, the game being followed by a one-course luncheon.

Members of the Kiwanis Club and their families spent a jolly time at the park during the late afternoon, when a picnic supper was served, the dance at the park pavilion being the principal feature of the evening's amusement.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

Quite the largest and most attractive of the week's social affairs, was the bridge luncheon, given Tuesday afternoon, by Mrs. Lawrence Laybourne of Springfield, and Mrs. Finley M. Torrence, at the Torrence home, on North King Street.

The affair was given in honor of Miss Julia McCormick, whose marriage to Mr. Fred Zartman of Franklin, will be solemnized September 12, and was the first of many lovely affairs being planned in Miss McCormick's honor, her marriage being an event of much interest in social circles.

Old fashioned bouquets of garden flowers, forming a mass of color about the rooms of the spacious Torrence home, were used in the simple decorations for the affair. During bridge which was enjoyed during the larger part of the afternoon, Mrs. Laura Alexander was awarded the highest score prize. A charmingly appointed luncheon was served the guests following cards.

Among the out-of-town guests received for the affair, were Mrs. Fred C. Kelly, of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting with friends in Springfield, Mrs. Fred Harwood, Mrs. James Nessler of Springfield, Mrs. F. M. Ganiard, of Michigan, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. Kent Finley, and Mrs. Harry Malke, of Dayton.

The afternoon was devoted by the crowd to the enjoyment of various sports, in charge of a committee headed by Mr. Graham Bryson, chairman, and Professor D. H. Barnes, superintendent of the Sunday School.

A delicious dinner was spread from well filled baskets at noon. The affair was considered among the most enjoyable of church affairs.

Following a sudden heart attack, Mrs. Mary William Jones, 82, died at 4:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at her home in Jamestown. She had been ill only a few minutes.

Mrs. Jones had been in the best of health and spirits and had eaten a hearty dinner and was apparently normal in every way up to the minute she was stricken.

Besides her only son Dr. C. L. Jones of Springfield, Mrs. Jones leaves her husband, Dr. L. M. Jones, Jamestown physician. Mrs. Jones had lived at Jamestown for the last forty-five years, and was a prominent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

MARRIAGE FOLLOWS TWO YEARS 'SILENT COURTSHIP'

Two years of "silent courtship" resulted in the marriage in Columbus Tuesday of Miss Odessa M. Holden, of Columbus, and Warren J. Hoverstick, printer of this city, employed at the Xenia Herald.

Both Hoverstick and his bride are former pupils at the Columbus School for the Deaf and Dumb. Their acquaintance began at the school and was renewed each year when Hoverstick would attend the annual picnic of the school at Columbus.

The wedding ceremony in Columbus Tuesday was performed through a set of questions and answers especially prepared for the occasion. The bridegroom is the son of John Hoverstick of the Dayton pike, where he and his bride will make their home upon their return from Columbus in a few days.

The Old Carriage Maker Had an Important Truth

"To make each part as strong as the rest," his way of "building a wonderful, one-ho chaise that wouldn't wear out till judgment day."

This illustrates a fact that is keeping many doctors busy these days—human bodies, like chaises, break down because some part isn't as strong as the others.

Very often it's because of ill-balanced food, lacking some important element of nutrition. This is especially of ill's developed in childhood, and carried on through Grape-Nuts, that world-famous, ready-to-eat cereal brings the plan of building each part as strong as the rest—to serve human need. Grape-Nuts contains all the nutriment of those best of the field grains, wheat and barley including the vital mineral elements, and it is a wonderful food for building and sustaining health and strength.

The delicious flavor and crispness of Grape-Nuts make it a welcome dish whenever you're hungry.

These same association officials are ambitious, too, to still enlarge their organization that all news writers, directly or indirectly connected with Ohio Newspapers, may become members before the convention. Mrs. Mathews particularly is anxious to increase the membership and she would like to hear from those not affiliated with the association. Her address is No. 1232 Windsor Drive, Dayton.

Fall Conferences This Year

So accustomed to spring conferences of the Ohio federation doubtless many club women throughout the state had forgotten about conferences to be held this fall because they are the first ever to be held by the Ohio federation and because spring conferences were also held this year.

The Northeast district conference officials are the first under the wire with an announcement of their convention, which is to be conducted at Akron Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 14 and 15. Members of the Summit County Federation of Women's Clubs are to be the hostesses. Miss Elizabeth Haymaker, of Ravenna, is vice president of the Northeast district.

ONLY TWO CASES OF TYPHOID NOW IN CITY SAYS GRUBE

Two cases of typhoid in the city are all that remain of the recent epidemic of the disease that health officials have been combating, Dr. R. H. Grube, City Health Commissioner announced, Wednesday.

One of the cases, according to Dr. Grube, has been of the last two weeks' duration, while the other developed at about the same time, caused by the patient drinking unsanitary well water.

No further official word has been received by Health Commissioner Grube, from Columbus officials who conducted the investigation here. "The matter as it now stands," said Dr. Grube Thursday, "gives proof that the epidemic is over, and that the existing cases can easily be accounted for as an aftermath of the former epidemic."

MYSTERIOUS FIRE DESTROYS STABLE

Mystery surrounds the origin of a fire that destroyed a small stable in the rear of the home of Wade Allen, colored, Taylor street, at two o'clock Wednesday morning.

Firemen were told that a prowler had been seen in the vicinity of the stable different nights, and authorities are entertaining the theory that some one bent on robbery had started the fire by igniting a match with which to find his way around in the stable.

Only framework of the stable was still standing when firemen arrived on the scene the rest of the small frame building being destroyed. Firemen used water to extinguish the blaze and to put out the fires that started from sparks following on nearby sheds.
